

Fernando Martínez González

Public Relations Director

Throughout 15 years of experience as a corporate communication and public relations advisor, he has built a close and long-term relationship with the main communicators in the country, including: Managing editors, Journalists, Reporters, Press correspondents, Chief editors, Chiefs information officers, as well as columnists and editorialists.

Among the sectors in which he has collaborated are: tourism, financial sector, airline industry, information technology and transportation.

